

Timothy Merrell

Executive Vice President, Head of Payments Consulting, Strategy, and Customer Experience
Global Payment Services
International Group
Wells Fargo & Company

Tim Merrell is an executive vice president and head of payments consulting, strategy, and customer experience for Global Payment Services (GPS), part of the Wells Fargo International Group (IG). Based in New York, he is responsible for developing strategy for new payment services, providing technical and consultative sales support, and ensuring end-to-end customer experience excellence to customers of Wells Fargo Global Financial Institutions (GFI).

Tim was most recently the managing director and head of foreign exchange payments and clearing product management at Deutsche Bank, where he was responsible for U.S. dollar, euro and multi-currency clearing products. He was also the business head and founder of FX4Cash, a strategic joint-venture between Deutsche Bank's Global Transaction Bank and Global Markets divisions.

Tim has more than 20 years of financial experience in global and foreign exchange payments, having worked at Deutsche Bank, ABN Amro, and Chase Manhattan Bank.

He has a B.S. degree from Syracuse University in New York and an M.B.A. degree from Baruch College in New York City.

Tim provides fundraising support for the Sarcoma Foundation and is a board member of a local Tribeca cooperative organization.

He has lived in New York City for nearly 25 years, interrupted by a brief relocation to Amsterdam in the late 1990s to support the development of the euro.

Tim is originally from upstate New York, near Lake Ontario, where he grew up and worked on a family-run dairy farm.

Together we'll go far

